Research Experience

Higher Education Commission, NRPU

July,2019 – 2020 ProRevMapper: Summarizing and Mapping Customer Reviews to Business Process Models.
This project focuses on automatically summarizing large volumes of customer reviews to extract key opinions, issues, and improvement signals. The condensed insights are then mapped to business process models, enabling organizations to quickly identify process gaps and prioritize data-driven improvements.

Advisor : Dr. Muhammad Khurram Shahzad, Associate Professor, Department of Data Science , University of the Punjab (Linkedin)

2016 Optimizing Multi-Way Join Queries Using Distributed Big Data Processing Frameworks. This project investigates the limitations of relational databases in executing complex multi-way join queries over large datasets. It evaluates distributed frameworks such as Hadoop MapReduce, Apache Hive, and Shark to identify the most efficient solution in terms of execution time.
